

AS IN 1976, CELEBRATING OUR HISTORY UNIFIES US.

"During a troubled period of our short history, the Bicentennial parted a curtain. Behind it we saw an America that still firmly believes in the principles of its founders."

*The Bicentennial of the United States of America,
A Final Report to the People*

THE STRENGTH OF KANSAS' ACTIVITIES WERE NATIONALLY RECOGNIZED IN THE BICENTENNIAL OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, A FINAL REPORT TO THE PEOPLE.

Urban Indians are the special concern of the Mid-America All Indian Center in Wichita, Kansas. Early in 1974, the City of Wichita designated the center its primary Bicentennial project and committed land worth $1 million along with $2 million in construction and development funds. Dedicated on July 4, 1976, the center features a museum and library, a large multipurpose area called the Ceremonial Kiva and administrative offices. Visitors learn about Indian dwellings, the democratic government of America's first settlers, Indian poetry and foods. From career counseling and nutrition programs to powwows and classes in quilting, beading and leatherwork, the center will provide services to some 3,000 American Indians, members of 42 tribes in the Wichita area.

KANSAS WAS A LEADER IN COMMUNITY PARTICIPATION.

"It is with pride that we note Kansas has been ranked 14th among all the states and territories in the number of communities awarded national Bicentennial recognition."

Revolution Bicentennial Commission*
