

2023 Kansas Statutes

77-148. Constitutions volume; publication of new volume; contents; comparative table of sections; supplementation. (a) Prior to December 31, 1979, the revisor of statutes shall edit, prepare for printing and publish a new hardbound constitutions volume of the Kansas Statutes Annotated.

(b) In editing and publishing the constitutions volume, the revisor shall be governed to the extent practicable by the provisions of K.S.A. 77-133, 77-135, 77-136, 77-136a and 77-137.

(c) In addition to the constitutions of the United States and the state of Kansas, the revisor shall include in the constitutions volume an index to the material contained therein, a comparative table of sections compiled from session law references appearing in legislative histories of statutory sections and such other materials as will facilitate use of the volume.

(d) After publication of the constitutions volume provided for in this section, said volume shall thereafter be kept up to date by cumulative supplements in the same manner as provided for supplementation of Kansas Statutes Annotated by K.S.A. 77-163 et seq. The revisor may publish supplemental indexes, tables and related material in paperbound volumes to be included in the sale of supplements to the Kansas Statutes Annotated.
