EIGHTY-NINTH DAY

SENATE CHAMBER, TOPEKA, KANSAS
Monday, June 26, 2017, 10:00 a.m.

As provided by HCR 5016, the Sine Die Session of the regular 2017 Kansas Senate was called to order by President Susan Wagle.

Invocation by Reverend Cecil T. Washington:

Heavenly Father, as weeks, months and even years go by, and we look back at the work You allowed us to do, let us see that You were able to merge the diversity and opposing viewpoints in these halls to produce a better way of life for Your People.

1 Corinthians 12:12-31, You remind us of the unity, in spite of diversity, in the human body. Likewise, in this legislative body, as diverse as we are, You have put us all together with a need for each other. Like the eye and the hand work together in spite of their differences, You brought this body of diverse people together to achieve an improved society.

Lord, the motto “E pluribus unum,” is a reminder that the oneness...the unity in these halls is made up of the parts and all the parts issue into the one.

Thank You for what has been accomplished, and for the work that is yet to be done.

Watch over these servants and maintain a hedge of protection around them. Then bring us back together in Your time and in Your way.

Reverend Washington concluded his prayer by singing “God Bless America.” Amen

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by President Susan Wagle.
