77-110. Effect of repeals by Revised Statutes of 1923 on rights and liabilities. The repeal of acts and parts of acts herein provided for shall not revive any law heretofore repealed or superseded, nor any office heretofore abolished; neither shall it affect any act done or right accruing or accrued, or any suit or proceeding in any civil action before the repeal takes effect, but the proceedings therein shall, when necessary, conform to the provisions of the Revised Statutes; nor shall such repeal affect any penalty or forfeiture incurred before it takes effect under any of the laws repealed, except that when a punishment penalty or forfeiture is mitigated by the provisions of the Revised Statutes, such provisions may be extended and applied to any sentence or judgment pronounced after said repeal; nor shall such repeal affect any suit or prosecution pending at the time it takes effect, for an offense committed or forfeiture incurred under any of the acts repealed, except that the proceedings therein shall, when necessary, conform to the provisions of the Revised Statutes.
