MEMORANDUM

To: Senate Committee on Financial Institutions and Insurance
From: Office of Revisor of Statutes
Date: March 1, 2023
Subject: Bill Brief, HB 2100

---

HB 2100 is our annual date change bill. The bill was passed unanimously by the House Committee of the Whole on February 16, 2023.

Annually, all insurers are required to file a risk-based capital report with the commissioner of insurance and with the NAIC, using the current version of risk-based capital instructions.

Each year, the NAIC promulgates a new version of risk-based capital instructions for use, so a bill is needed each session for the Legislature to authorize use of that new version of instructions.

The bill simply changes the effective date of the risk-based capital instructions in effect by advancing the effective date by one year. You can see that amendment on page 2, line 2 of the bill where the year changes from 2021 to 2022.
